WALTER RADDUSO
FrontEnd Developer

ABOUT ME

I was born in San Justo, Santa Fe, Argentina on February 10, 1986. A couple of years ago I've moved to Santa Fe City in Argentina.

When I was younger I loved computers, many years ago I met the language C and created my first application. Then I met PHP and that's when I discovered my real passion, being a web developer. Since then, I kept myself continuously learning and improving the way of writing better code, everyday.

WORK EXPERIENCE

FRONTEND DEVELOPER
Endeev SRL   Jun 2016 - Current

Inside of the company I have a very dynamic role, executing lots of tasks in different environments. I'm the team leader of a web application created with CakePHP in the Backend and HTML, CSS, JQuery, AngularJS and most recently, VueJs in the FrontEnd. Also, I helped the product manager with tasks like designing new features or validating requirements. I've worked for several months as a FrontEnd developer creating applications using AngularJS and React. I've developed some mobile application using React Native. Nowadays I've been working with NodeJs, creating an API Rest.
